

FULKING - UNDER CHANCTONBURY RING

16Km

Lovely lanes between points 1 and 2 and between 8 and 9, an interesting navigation puzzle in suburban Bramber and a fine small town to explore.

5) Cross the main road. Keep straight ahead. The ruins of Brambler castle are just to the north and worth exploring. Pub between points 4 and 5

6) Follow the old main road through Steyning, a picturesque town which has all the usual services.

7) Cross the main road (slight dog leg)

8) 90 degree turn here. The lane between points 8 and 9 is quiet and very scenic

9) 90 degree turn here. Above you on the downs you can see the remains of the Chanctonbury Ring of trees.

1) Good pub at Fulking. Going east make sure you turn right, following the main road, in the village.

2) Going west turn left on to the main road and then look for a drive/lane shortly on your right. This turns into somewhat overgrown track. There may be nettles in high summer. Cycle carefully along the track, which broadens out after a short while into a lane to reach a junction at (3).

Going east emerge from the lane, turn left and then first right.

3) Going west turn right along a track at the junction. This soon turns into a road. Keep straight ahead until you come to a no through road sign. Turn left here and head south here, through a one way system till you get to the main road. Going east turn slightly left up a lane.

4) Going west turn right at the main road and keep going. Going east take the first possible turning on the left after crossing the bridge. When it is no longer possible to go straight ahead turn right and keep going. The road turns into a track. Keep going till you meet the junction at (3)
